Lipids for the future - contribution of lipids in nutrition, food products, and pharmaceuticals

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Scientific Committee has started to accept abstracts for oral communication (20 min incl. discussion) and poster presentation.

Abstract submission, in English, will be accepted until 2 February 2024.

Suggested topics that will be covered:

- health and nutritional aspects of lipids
- pharmaceutical aspects of lipids
- advanced lipid analysis and lipidomics
- lipid oxidation and antioxidants
- single cell oils and lipids
- lipids in aquaculture
- lipids in feed and pet nutrition
- sustainable processing technologies
- lipids in personalised nutrition
- lipids in skin care
- miscellaneous

We emphasise that the program is open for marine, plant, animal, and microbial lipids etc. in all sessions.

You are cordially invited to submit your contribution online by clicking here.

Please read carefully:

- Please limit the abstract text to 300 words or less (not including the title, author, and their affiliations).
- In abstracts use sub-headings (like Introduction, Results and/or Conclusions) if appropriate.

Make a pdf-file of your abstract and send it (in addition to digital registration) to secretary@lipidforum.info.

We kindly ask the presenting authors to register for the Symposium as soon as possible after receiving notification of acceptance.

See you all in Turku!
